Description

Just 17 km separate Palma from one of the “most beautiful places in the world”, as has been defined by illustrious people who have lived and lived in the spectacular surroundings of the Tramuntana Mountain Range that surrounds the town of Valldemossa. Within this impressive landscape and just 20 minutes walking from the town center, we find this magnificent historical estate protected by UNESCO; a large centenary property of the fourteenth century that has been completely restored with great care and Modern vision to adapt it to modern life without losing an iota of charm.

On an extensive plot of 50,727 m², the farm occupies 953 m² of south-facing surface where luxury, comfort and history come together in interiors of great beauty and timeless elegance, with the use of marble, hydraulic floors and natural stone among others. From all its corners you can contemplate the fascinating landscape and the unique light given off by the Mediterranean vegetation of the Tramuntana Mountains with the postcard of the houses and monuments of Valldemossa as a backdrop.

It has seven bedrooms designed as intimate spaces with private bathrooms, lots of light and beautiful views. The interiors, consisting of rooms, living room with fireplace, dining room and kitchen, are protected by high ceilings dressed with exposed beams and are the impeccable result of this reform that has sought the most current and comfortable style together with high qualities such as air conditioning and underfloor heating always respecting the architecture and history of the place.

The outdoor spaces are exceptional corners under the sun with large porches, barbecue, patios and terraces that give way to magnificent garden areas with fruit trees that function as exceptional viewpoints to the green splendor of the Tramuntana Mountain Range that forms this landscape.

The property has a pavilion and an attached building that has also been renovated as a luxurious independent space and next to it you can build a large swimming pool for which a license is already available.

“An exclusive property that recovers the traditional Mallorcan style modernized for contemporary living with meters and meters of rooms, terraces and gardens that merge with spectacular views”
