With an innovative contemporary design but without renouncing to the essence of Mediterranean construction, we present this incredible newly built villa located in the elegant residential area of Cas Catalá, in the municipality of Calviá, a place very close to Palma that enjoys a privileged position in front of the sea. It is also very close to restaurants and all the necessary services for day to day living. The plot on which the villa is built, which will be completed by the end of 2026, occupies 810 m² within this marvellous environment of sea and nature and will have 388 m² of floor space distributed over two levels plus a basement floor and culminating in a large roof floor. The architecture of this large villa follows an avant-garde design that integrates perfectly into the surroundings due to the great prominence of natural materials such as stone and wood and will be equipped with the latest technology, high energy efficiency and top quality materials. All this, together with the optimal distribution of the spaces, results in a first class home that is spacious, bright and comfortable in equal parts.

The outdoor spaces are a true oasis of nature, with an extensive garden full of Mediterranean vegetation, large terraces where you can relax in the sun or in the shade and a separate large swimming pool surrounded by a solarium area with sun loungers where you can enjoy the beautiful scenery.

With four bedrooms and five bathrooms, all the interior spaces are bathed in natural light thanks to the huge windows that surround the house. The house is accessed through the roof floor where the garage is located with capacity for four vehicles. On descending to the first floor we are welcomed by the large room occupied by the living room, dining room and integrated kitchen forming a large space totally open to the views and to the outside terrace with sitting room and small swimming pool.
